

Women in Medicine

Careers and Leadership

With Professor Selena Gray- Deputy Postgraduate Dean and Dr Melanie Jones - Career Development Advisor

Wednesday 1st November 2017, 9.30 (hot breakfast) 10.00am -1.00pm- Engineers House, The Promenade, Clifton Down Bristol BS8 3NB

Professor Selena Gray is Deputy Postgraduate Dean in Severn and has an academic post at University of the West of England, Bristol.

She trained in Leeds, and after a brief spell in paediatrics which included working in Saudi Arabia, she trained in Public Health Medicine in the South West.

Dr Melanie Jones previously worked in anaesthetics and in the Wales Deanery and is now a Medical career development advisor, supporting doctors with career dilemmas and transitions, including developing career support skills, leadership, and time management.

She has an MA Managing Medical Careers from the University of Brighton.

Both presenters are Past Presidents of the Medical Women's Federation, a charity that promotes the personal and professional development of women in medicine.

The workshop will aim to help individuals identify what they want from their medical careers and how they might achieve this.

It will encourage individuals to reflect on their own values and priorities, and to hear the career stories of others, as well as receiving tips and advice on how to increase the likelihood of achieving their goals.
